Capital Economics extends distribution with FactSet

10th February 2026

Capital Economics, a leading independent provider of macroeconomic analysis and data, today announced that its award winning analysis and insight is now available across FactSet workflow solutions globally.

Jonathan Cooper, Chief Growth Officer at Capital Economics, stated, "Adding FactSet to our Channel Partners program is a natural extension of our Platform. We chose to make our content available via third-party platforms because our clients expect seamless access wherever they are. By extending our content across FactSet Workstation, we're focusing on hyper-personalization, speed of consumption and user convenience".

Visit our Solutions to unlock more insights and see how partnering with us can accelerate your growth.

Curious how we can deliver our solutions? Visit our Partner page for more details.